

Love Letter to an Angel

A Roberts

For the first time I understand love,
And it is so simply you.

It is the joy I see in your eyes, and the peace that settles into my heart.
It is the guiding light from your soul
Letting me know that I am home.

It is the spark that I feel,
whenever you are near.
And the love that envelopes me,
Beyond compare.

It is the calmness in my complexities,
acceptance of my imperfections.
It is freedom to take down walls,
And the wonder to grow anew.

It is the way our hands meet
When I go to fall asleep,
And the sweet enfolding of never
Letting go that allows me to dream.

It is the embrace I long to give you
When I see you across the room,
And the boundaries that erase
When I am one alone with you.

It is the steadiness of your love,
transformative freedom that it brings;
It is the forever that I know
inside my soul, where only we can go.
